

ROAR STREET JOURNAL

Gold Mines

There was a game that I used to love playing.

It's called...

The game is easy.

Your only goal is to look for gold, the more the merrier.

Somehow, I think life is like this game.

BLOCK 10

Everybody wants to find gold.

From the beginning,
we were taught that gold is good.

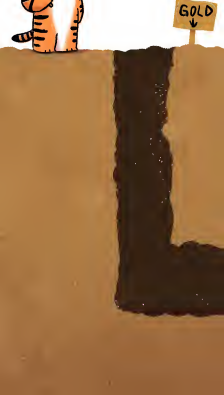

And we work hard to find a big gold mine.

ROAR STREET JOURNAL

Some people work very hard,
yet they never hit a gold mine.

Some people work very hard
and they gave up right before they find gold.

There's no gold in this direction...

Some people reach a gold mine easily.

I'm so lucky!!

LOTTERY

Some people had a hard time finding one.

Finally!

Some people thought they found a huge gold mine,
which turned out to be a big rock.

I'm rich!!!

Some people thought they found a rock,
and they didn't know what's inside.

Oh, it's just a rock...

Some people are more privileged in finding gold.

My dear, just take this drill
and follow this road map.

Dad's got the best for you.

Some people are less privileged.

Most people rushes in the direction
where gold is found easily.

A few individual goes in the opposite direction
to find their own gold mine.

The gold will be used up soon with so many animals heading there...

Life is like a race to find gold mines.

And when people found one gold mine,
they want to find the next, and the next...

Just like the game, it can go on forever.

However, I think what's important is not finding as much gold as you can,

it's what you do with the gold.

Such a good son

For you mum

ROAR STREET
JOURNAL

What?

I bought some
caramel popcorn

Gold nuggets?

...and paper on the way home.

Instagram: Bonniepangart

Facebook: BonnieEEP

Twitter: Bonniepangart

www.bonniepangart.com